Mama monkey was teaching baby monkey his shapes. She thought a fun way to do that would be to make them look like bananas and hide them in a fruit bowl. When he identified all the shapes he could have a real banana.

Can you help the baby monkey?

"Mama. What shape is a real banana?" Asks the baby monkey.

"Mama. What shape is a real banana?" Asks the baby monkey.

"Why that's an excellent question!"
Says Mama. It's a crescent shape like the moon sometimes is.
