

This card created especially for you
by: Diane

Put student's pix over the top face.

1. You make things fun!

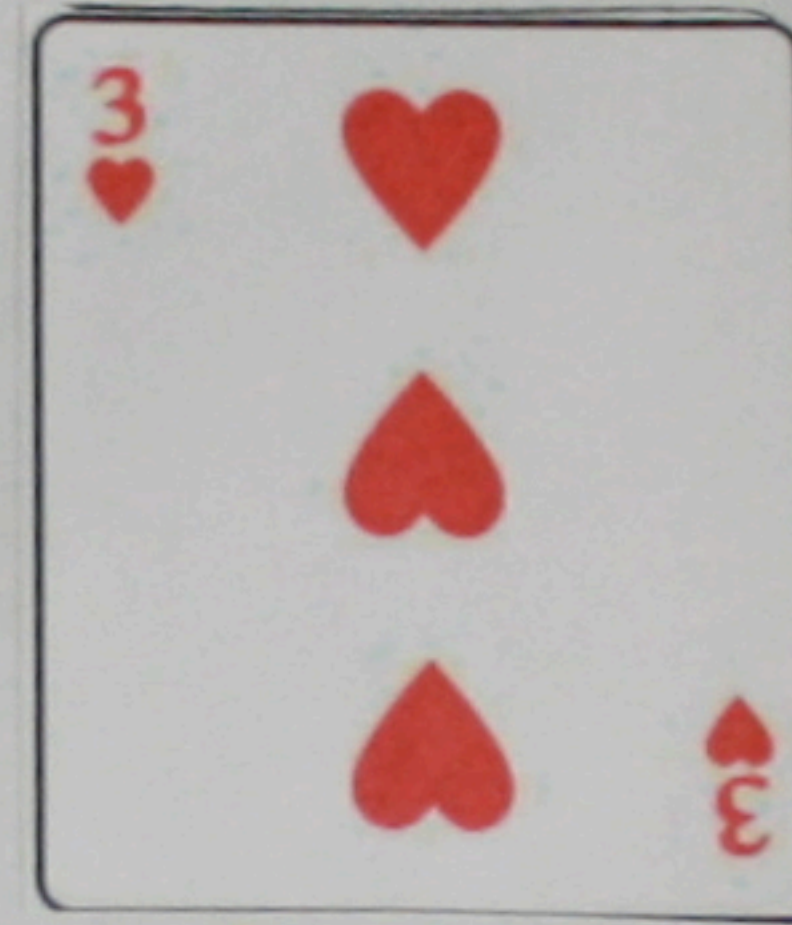

1 1 1 1
one one

2. Me & You.

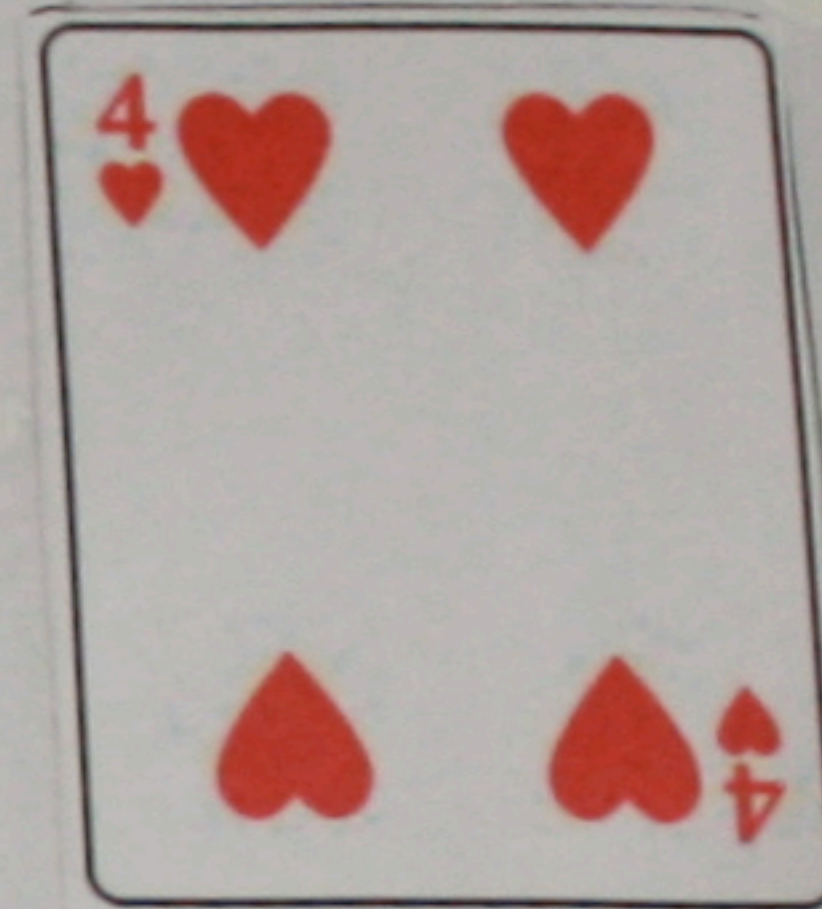

2 2 2 2
two two

3 So happy!

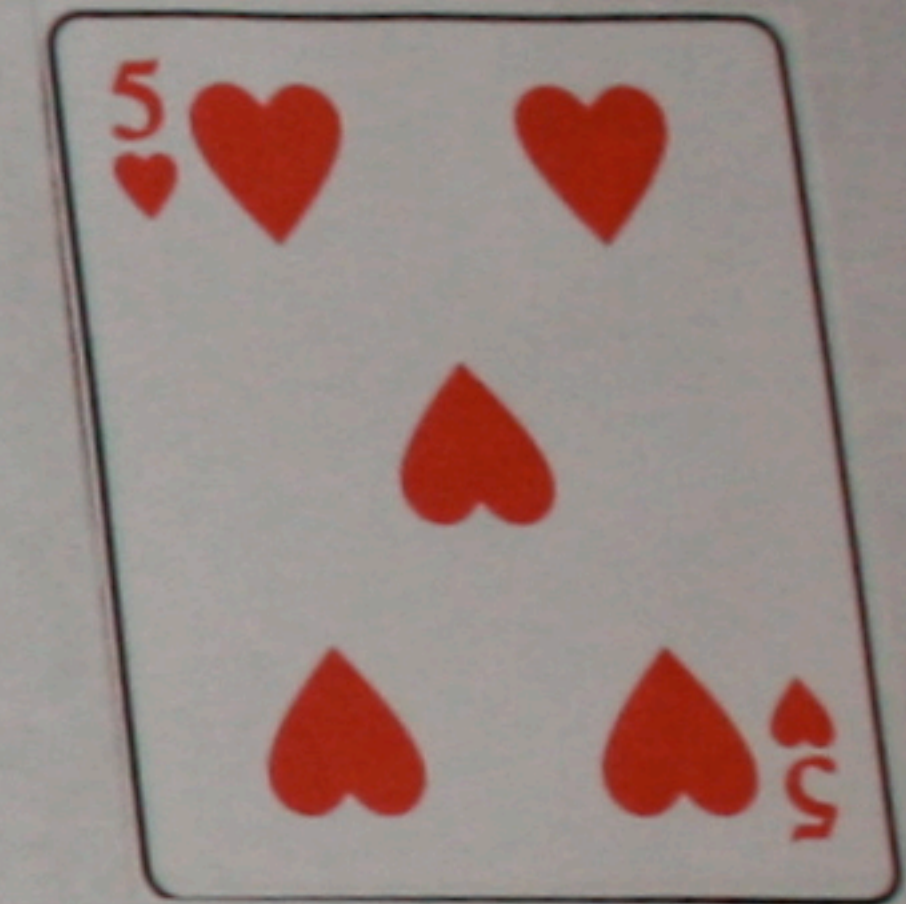

3 3 3 3
three three

4 Love you to the core.

4 4 4 4
four four

5 So glad to be alive!

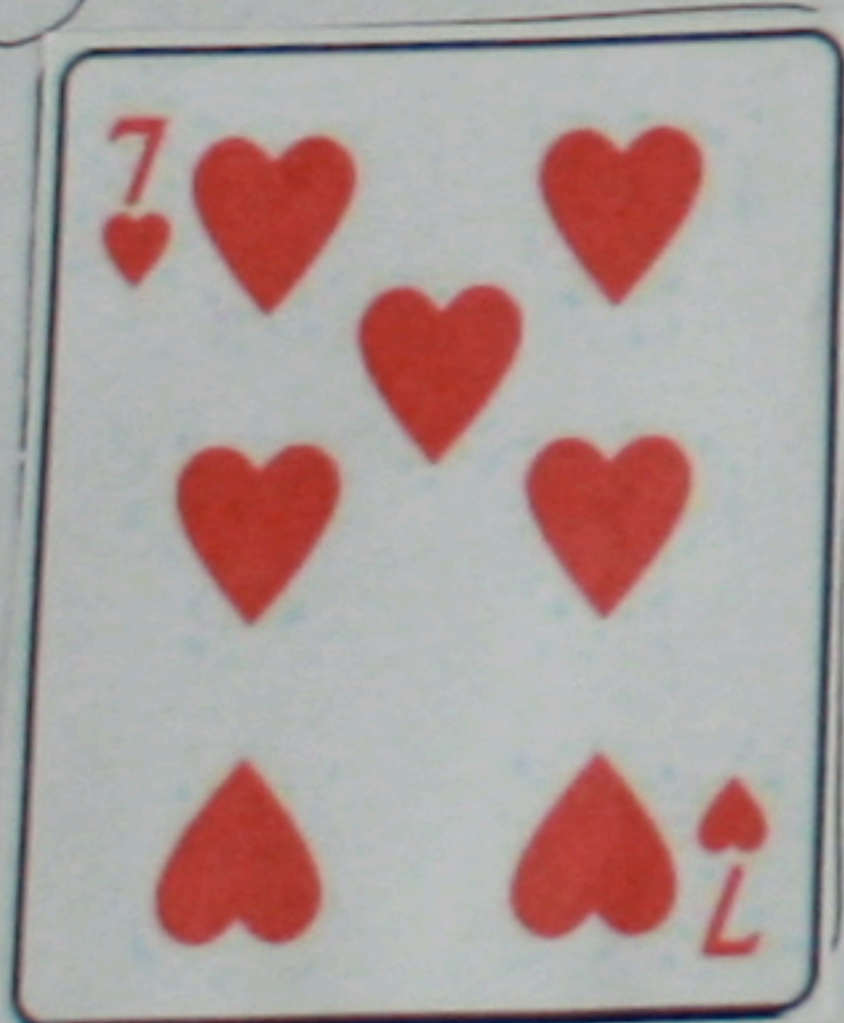

5 5 5 5
five five

6 Without you I'm in a fix.

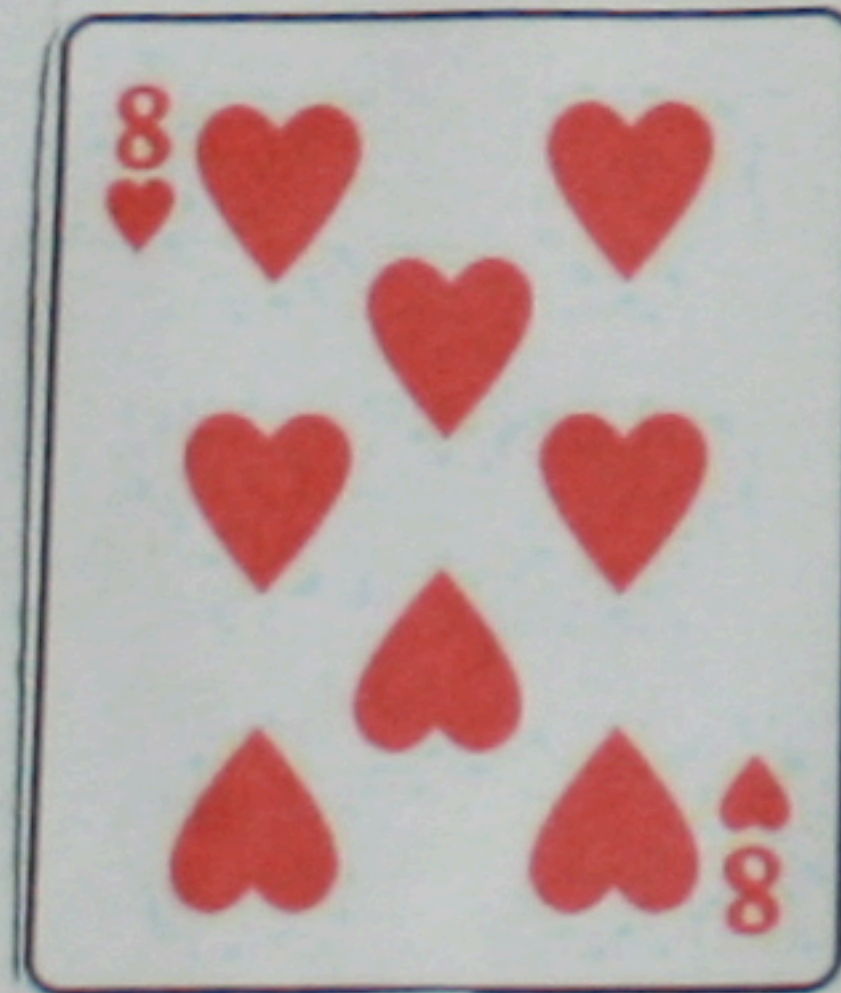

6 6 6 6
six six

7 With you it's heaven!

7 7 7 7
seven seven

8 You're great!

8 8 8 8
eight eight

9 Will you be my Valentine?

9 9 9 9
nine nine

10 Have to say it again & again...

Love you...

♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U

10 10 10 10
ten ten

This card created especially for you
by: Diane

Put student's pix over the top face.

It's In The Cards Valentine Booklet
©TeachWithMe.com

Materials:

- Copier
- Stapler
- Scissors
- Glue sticks
- Markers or crayons
- Student school pix
- Optional: heart stickers

Background:

I LOVE playing cards and have purchased decks at The Dollar Store to make a variety of math center games.

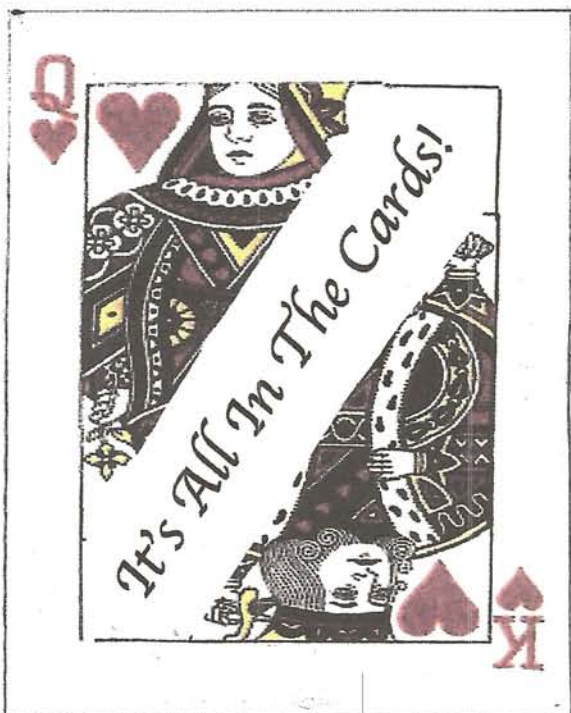

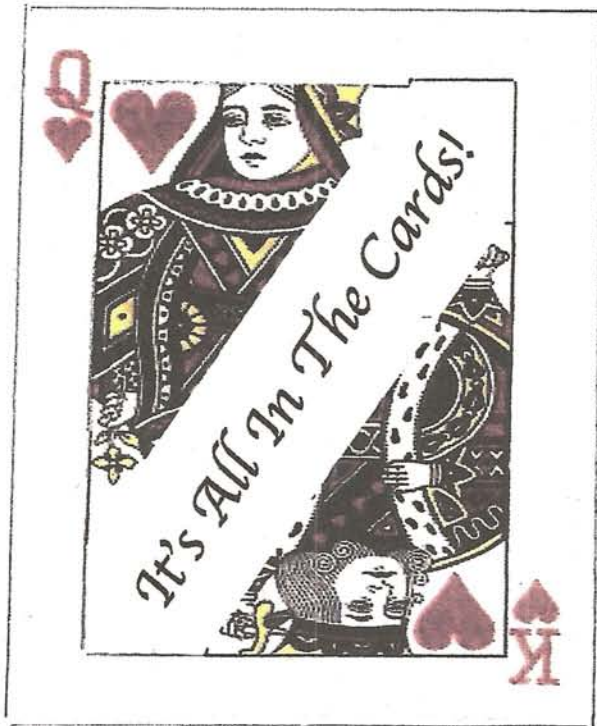

It was while looking at all those heart cards that my brain was thinking: What can I do with these to make a February lesson? when "It's All In The Cards" was born.

Directions:

1. Run off copies of my templates.
2. Students cut and sequence their cards and then glue them to the appropriate pages.
3. If you're running these off on a copier, you might want to have students trace around the hearts with a red marker to add some zip and color to their pages.

4. You could also give them 10 red heart stickers to place one on each card.
5. Children trace and then write the numbers and number words.
6. I did mine with markers, in rainbow color order + pink, brown, gray and turquoise.
7. To make this even more of a keepsake, make copies of your students' school pix, cut into small ovals and have them paste it on the last page.
8. Boys use the king card, girls the queen.
9. Students cut their papers into 1/4ths following the lines, then sequence their pages and staple.
10. When everyone is done, read the booklet as a whole group activity to reinforce concepts of print, then have children pair off and read it to each other.
11. Students will then be able to read their valentine to their family--a double gift of love!

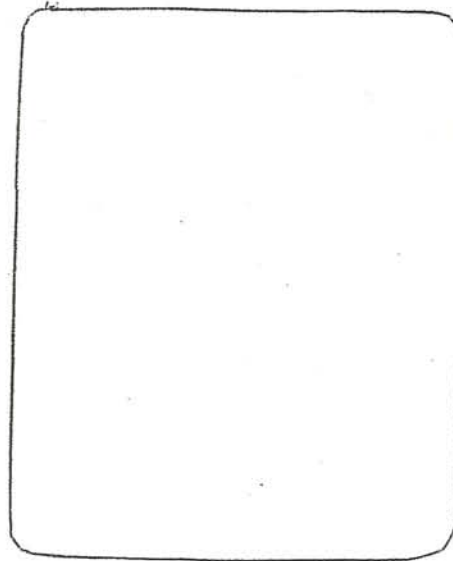

1. You make things fun!

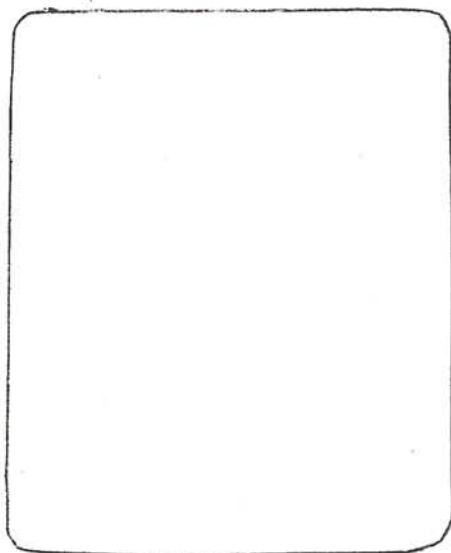

one

2. Me & You.

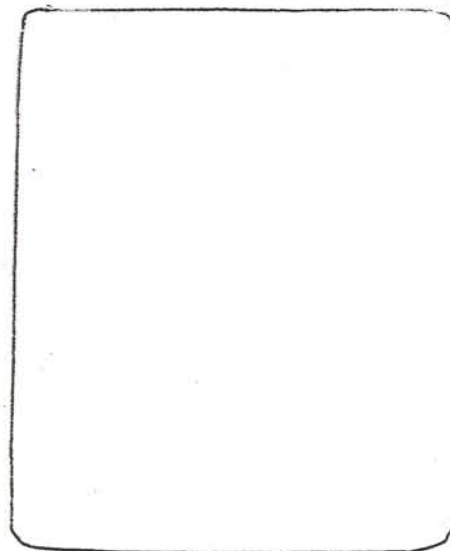

two

3 So happy!

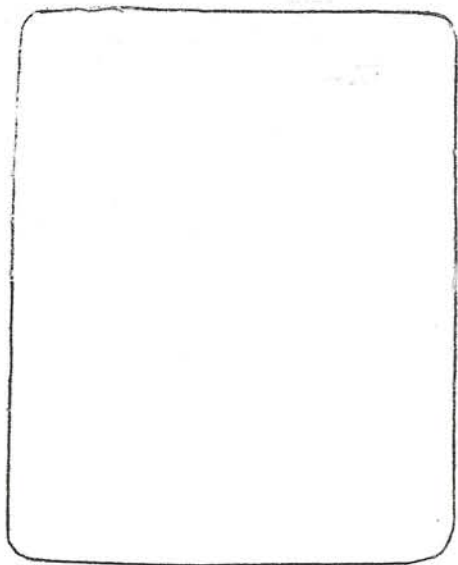

three

4. Love you to the core.

four

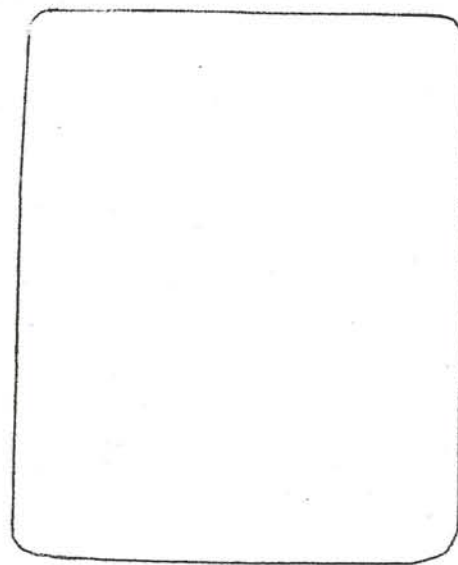

5. So glad to be alive!

5

five

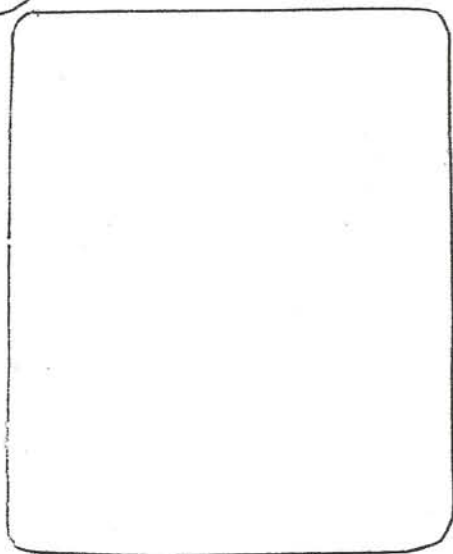

6. Without you I'm in a fix.

6

six

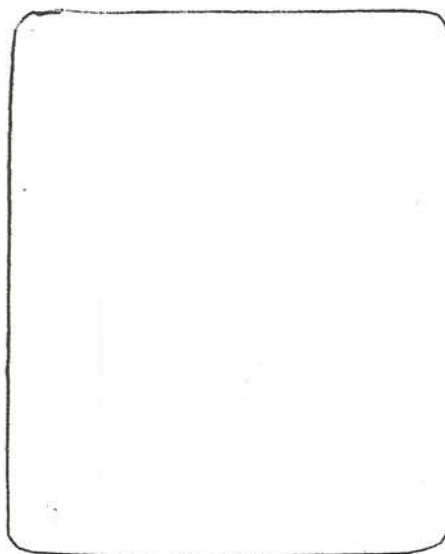

7. With you it's heaven!

7

seven

8. You're great!

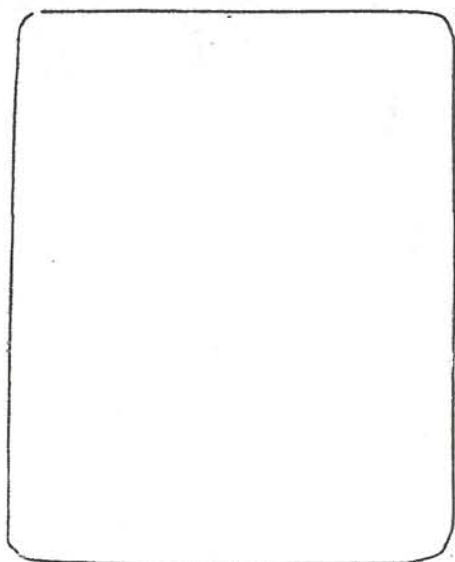

8

eight

9. Will you be my Valentine?

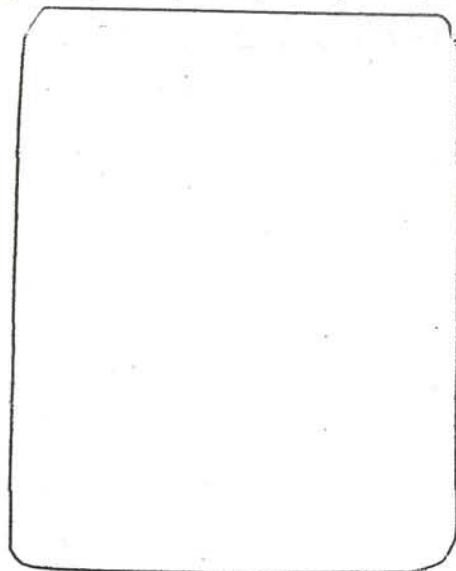

9

nine

10 Have to say it again & again...

Love you...

♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U, ♥U

10

ten

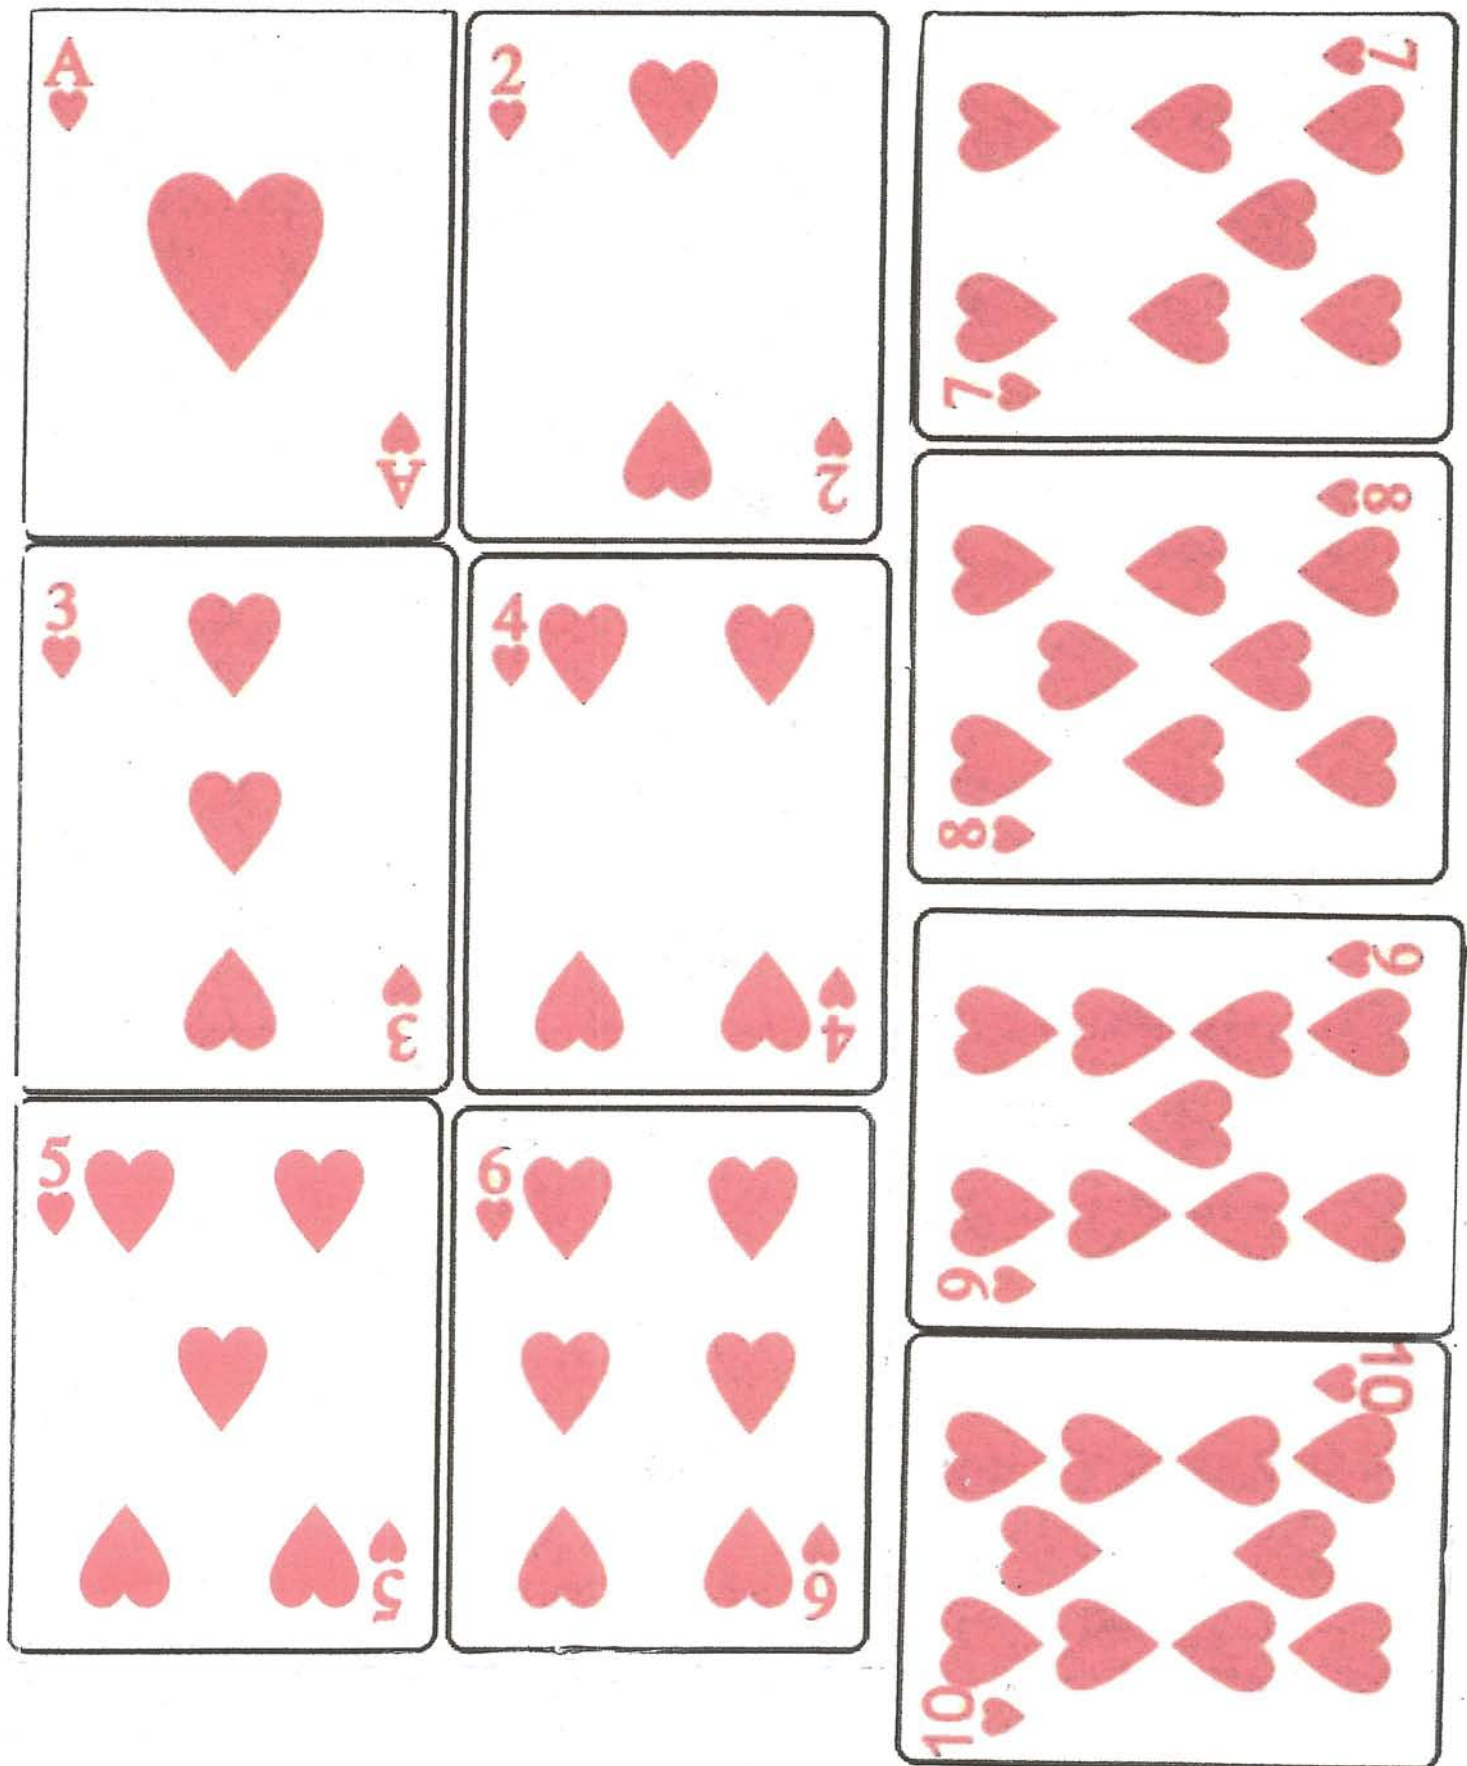

This card created especially for you
by:

This card created especially for you
by:

Cut and glue.

