

Wishing
a glowing student
a bright year!

Kelli

Mr(s). Henderson
has a bright new bunch, filled with brilliant ideas!

Mr(s). _____
has a bright new bunch, filled with brilliant ideas!

TeachWithMe.com
Back to School Bulletin Board.

Run off on yellow construction paper.
Make copies of students' 1st day photograph, print
and trim into circles and glue to the center of the bulb.
Students write their name on it.
Scatter on a background of aluminum foil.
To add pop trim with twinkle lights or roping that flashes.
As a writing extension have students jot down a "brilliant" idea that they have for making the school
better, or whatever topic you want them to have a bright thought about.

Wishing
a glowing student
a bright year!

Wishing
a glowing student
a bright year!

Wishing
a glowing student
a bright year!

Wishing
a glowing student
a bright year!

Wishing
a glowing student
a bright year!

Run off on yellow construction paper. Cut slits and insert a glow stick or tape it to the bookmark. The Dollar Store sells glow bracelets (10-15) a pack. Target also has them in their Dollar Deal section.

Make a matching bulletin board by running off the large light bulb template. Make an extra copy of your students' 1st day of school photo, cut them into circles and glue to the center of the bulb.