The Ants Go Marching: Unknown Author

- This is a fun song to teach your students to help them count to 10.
- Run off 2-3 sets of ant cards and pass them out to your students so they can hold them up while you're singing, when you get to that part of the song.
- Put Velcro or a magnet on the back of one set of cards so they can sequence them on a flannel or white board.
- Run off the cards on different colors and make Memory Match Concentration Games.
- To see a cute cartoon video of this, with music to have your students sing along, click on the link:
