

If I were
President
I would ...

not have school on fridays.

Kiesha

Back

Front

Front

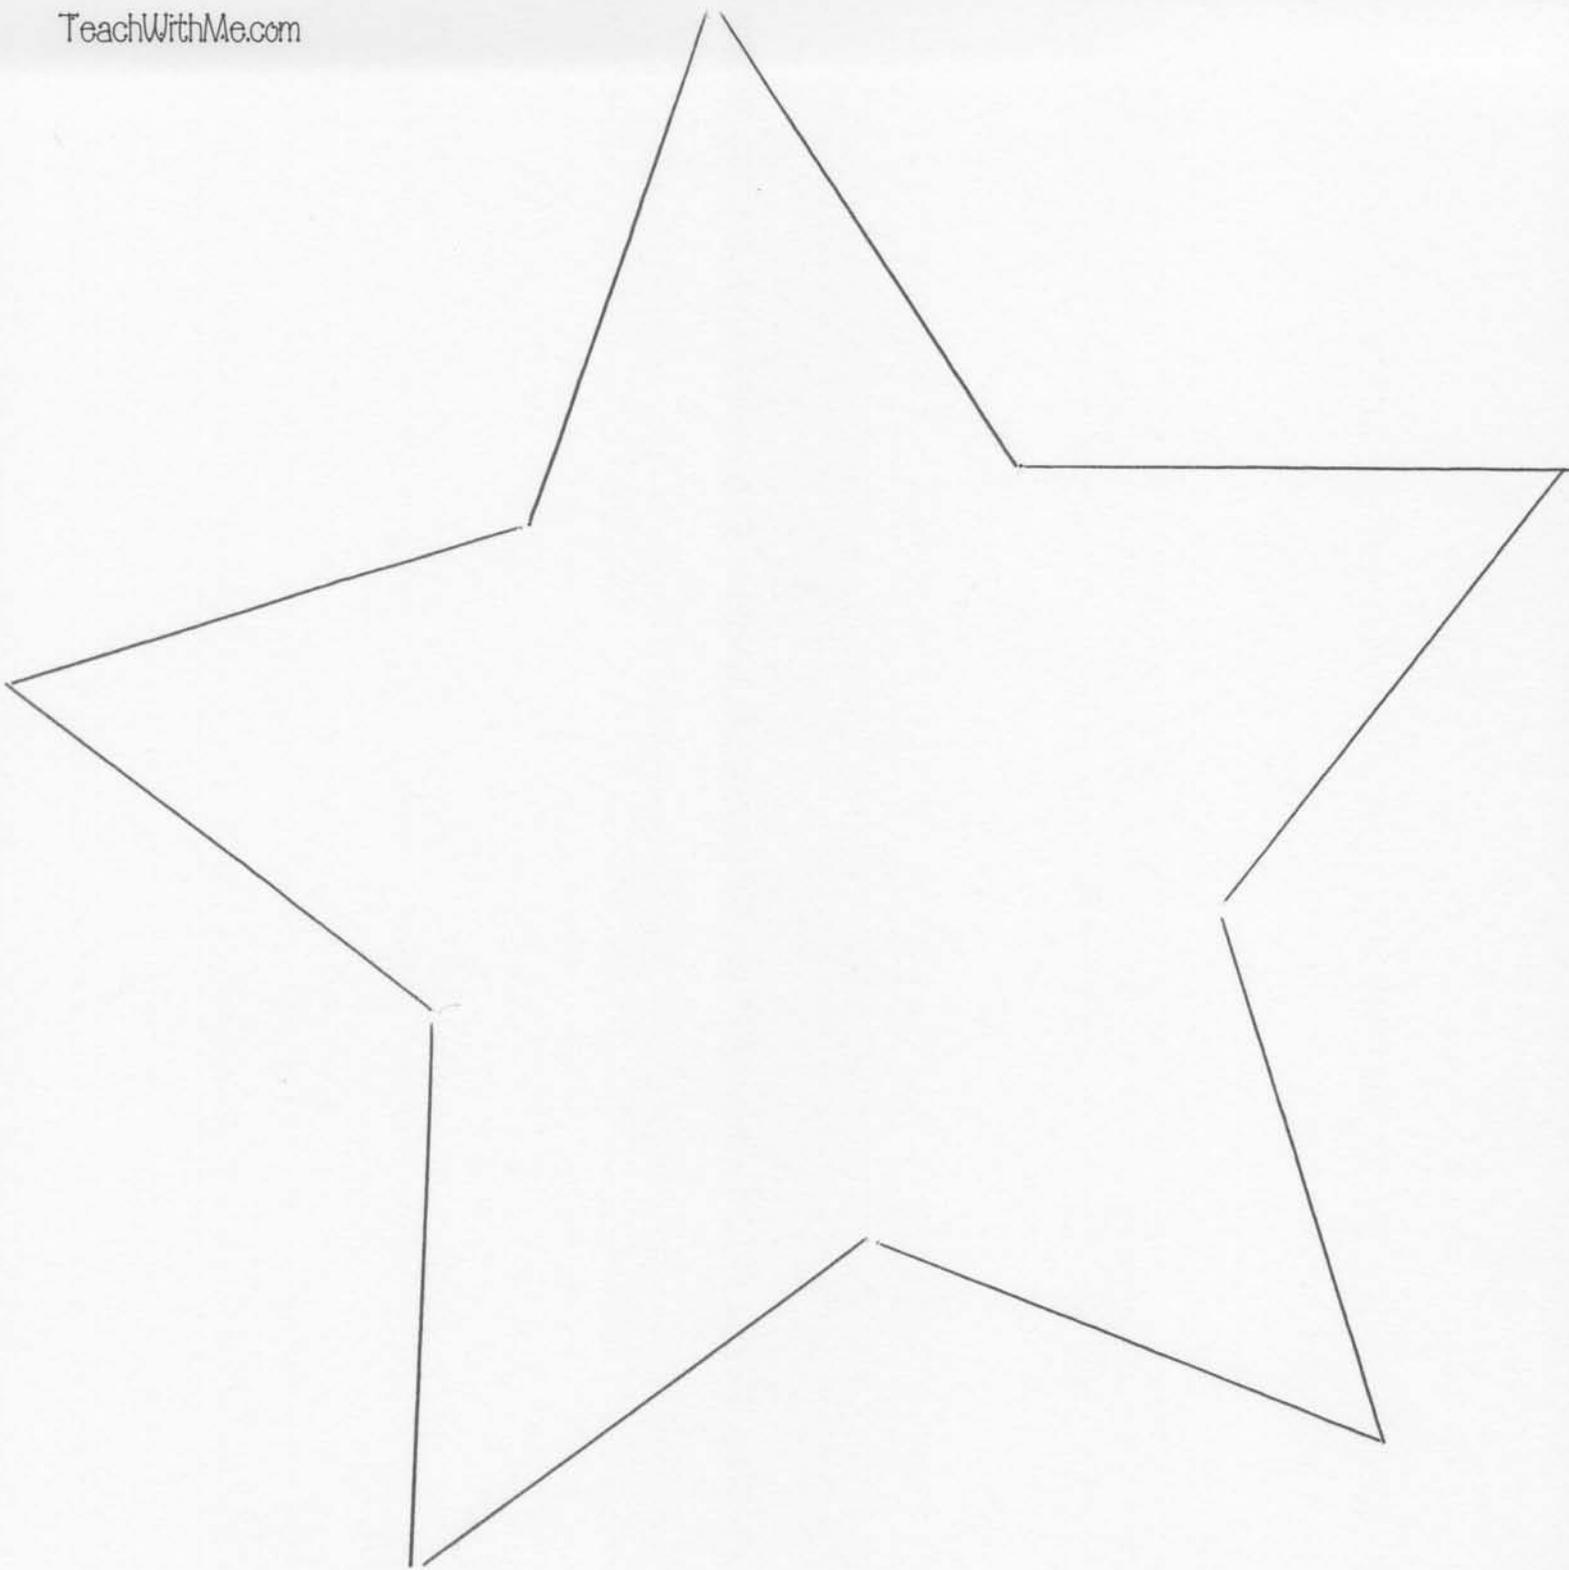

Back

I'm proud to be an American because ...

we are free. Our Constitution guarantees us rights that other people don't have in other countries. Our country cares about others and helps them.

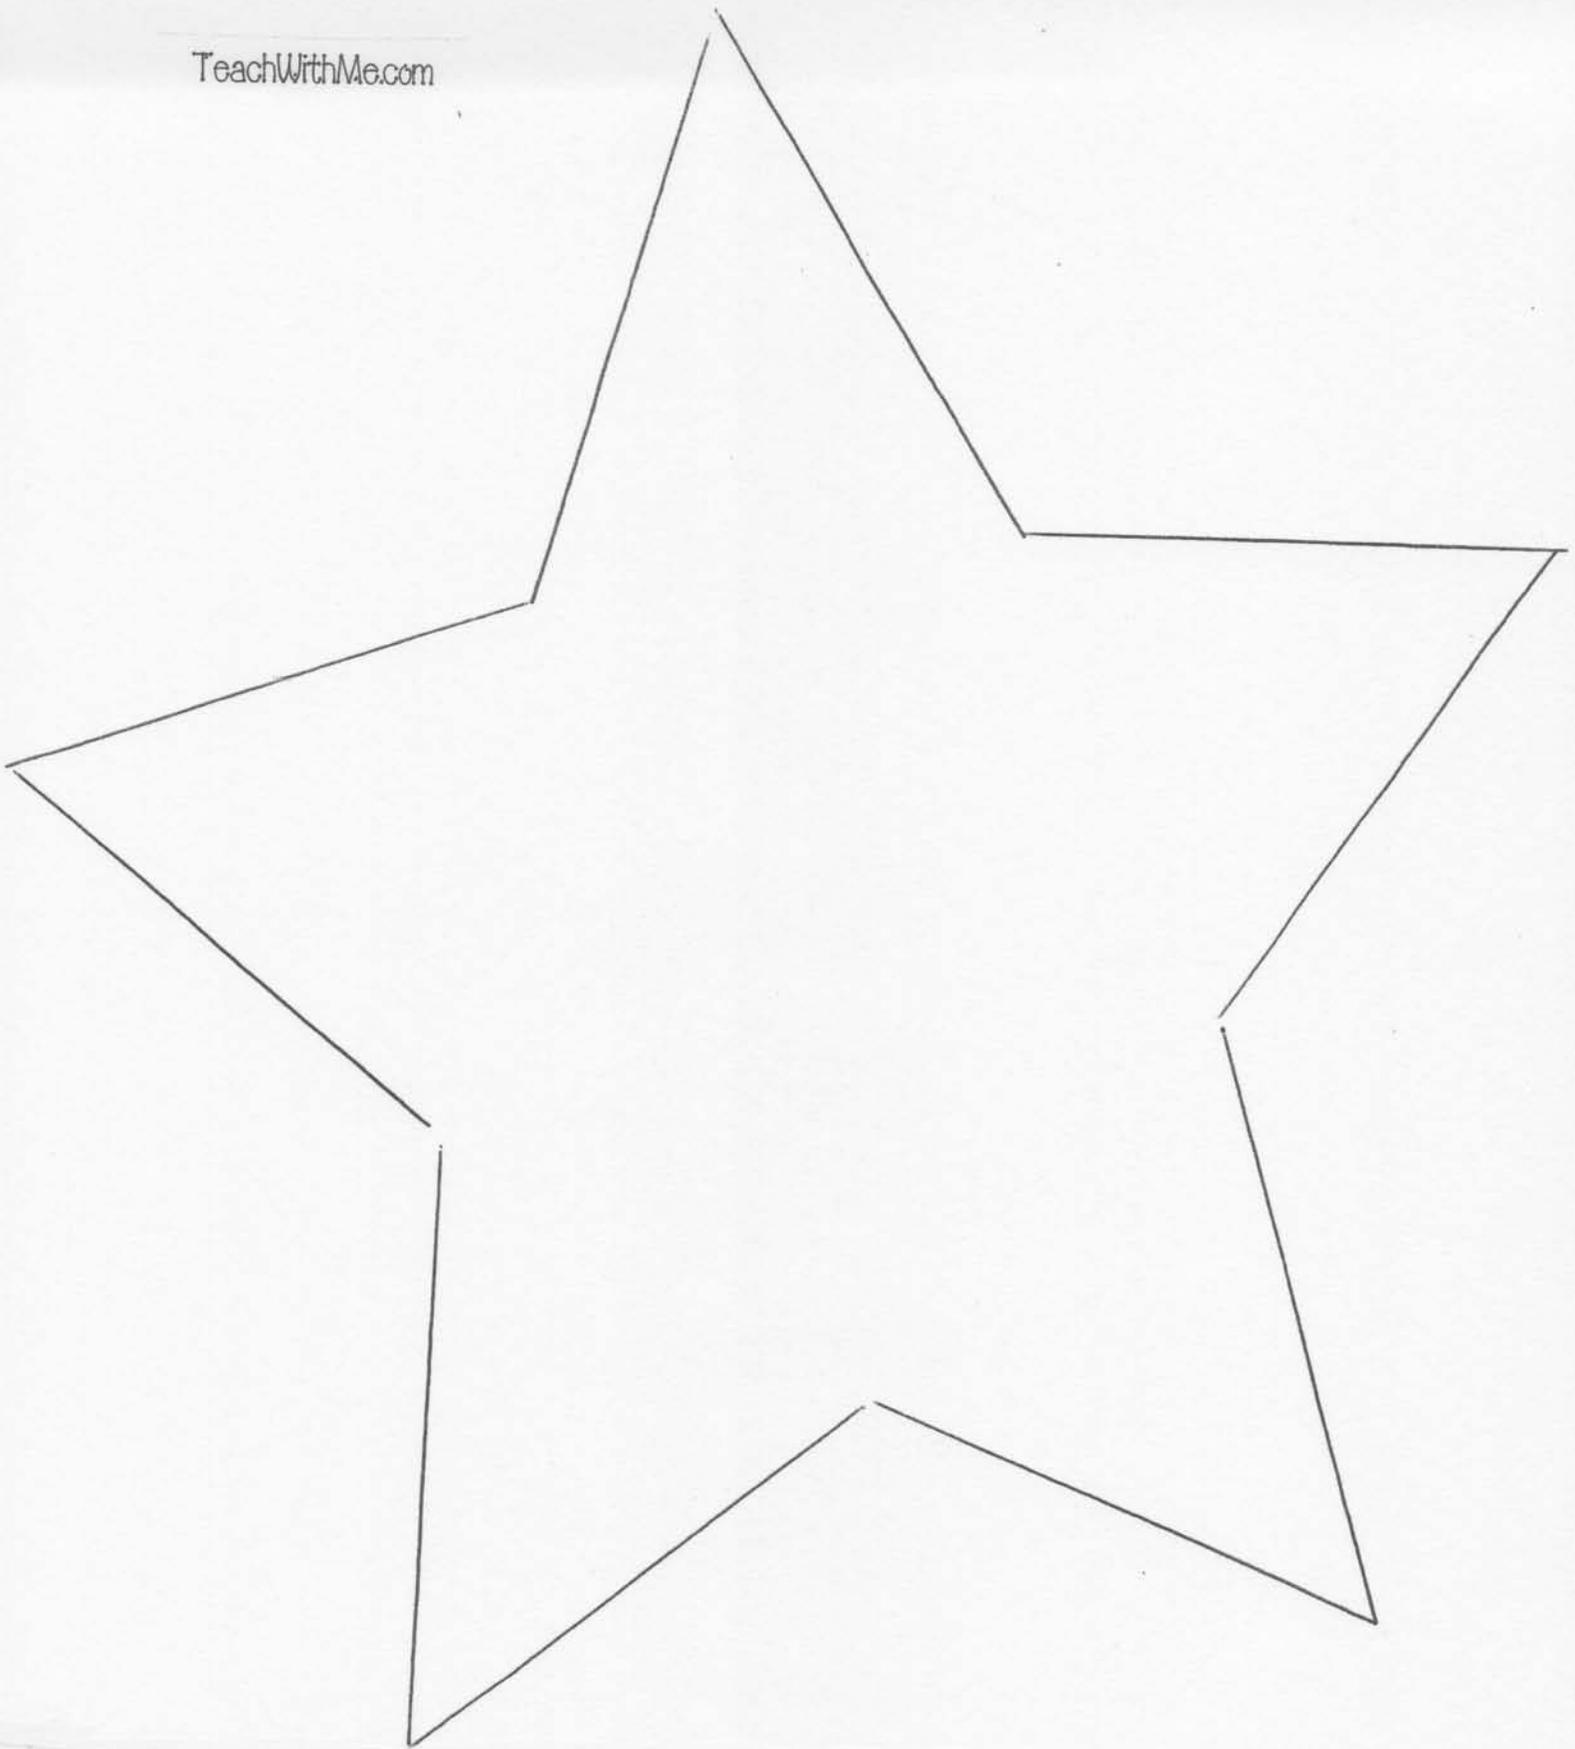

Run stars off on construction paper or card stock.
Students rip and tear red, white and blue construction paper and glue it randomly on their star.
When they are done, they cut out their star.
On the back they fill in the sentence: I'm proud to be an American because...
Make it more personal by having students glue their school picture on the back as well.
Punch a hole in the top and suspend from the ceiling.

I'm proud to be an American because . . .

Glue this star to the back of the "torn" star.
Students complete the writing prompt.
Add a school photo for more pizzazz.

If I were
President
I would . . .

Glue this star to the back of the other star.
Students complete the writing prompts.
Add their photo for more pizzazz.

Run stars off on construction paper or card stock.

Students rip and tear red, white and blue construction paper and glue it randomly on their star. Children choose what Lincoln and Washington clip art they want to collage over the torn paper. When they are done, they cut out their star.

On the back they fill in the sentence: If I were President I would.

Make it more personal by having students glue their school picture on the back as well.

Punch a hole in the top and suspend from the ceiling.

Happy President's Day!
George Washington

Abraham Lincoln

Students can cut and glue whatever images or words they want, and glue them in a collage like fashion to their star.