A Monthly Praise Journal For My Child

Date:

Dear Families,

To help promote self-esteem and motivate students to try their best, I'm giving out "parent homework."

At the end of each month, you will get a seasonal page for your child's keepsake praise booklet.

Please fill it out and send it back to school ASAP.

I will share the page with your child as an encouraging message from you and then put it in their "I'm A Proud As A Peacock Parent" booklet.

At the end of school, they will have a year's worth of praise about their progress.

When school lets out for summer vacation, I'll be including pages for the summer months, incase you'd like to continue this fun self-esteem builder.

Our first page is attached. This is due: _____

Thanks in advance for helping make the year even more special for your child.
