

Print on white paper. Rough cut to separate. Students glue to a strip of red construction paper. Assign a word for students to rhyme or give them a choice. They write that word on the brim and then write as many words as they can think of that rhyme with it. Encourage creativity & have them think of a nonsense word too. They should define it on the back of their bookmark.

This is the size that the red background for the bookmarks should be.

Here is my sample so that you can easily make an example to share with your kiddos.

I defined "zawl" on the back:

A zawl is a tool that makes z-shaped holes in wood.
