On The First Day Of School What Did You See? Class Book Directions

- Take a first day photo of each student. Get multiple prints, as you will probably use them for many purposes before you get students' regular school pictures.
- Run off copies of the student page for as many students as you have.
- Glue the pages on sheets of multi-colored construction paper.
- Glue students' photographs on the pages, try to match the color of their outfit to the construction paper.
- You can put the book together and read it to your students, or you can pass out the pages and help them fill in the blanks.
- Students trace the sentences in the matching color.
- Fill out your teacher page and take a group shot of your students on the playground or doing a fun activity or acting silly and glue it to the last page.
- You can also glue a small photo of yourself next to your name in the upper left or right hand corner to make it more personal.
- Write the name of your school on the schoolhouse on the cover and put the date your school started underneath.
- If you don't have a lot of children in your class, you could make a copy of the book for each child to take home as a way to learn their new friend's names.
- If you do this, have students autograph their page.

Count how many and then write the number.
