

"When you think things are bad, when you feel sour and blue,
when you start to get mad, you should do what I do!
Just tell yourself, Duckie, you're really quite lucky!
Some people are much more . . .
oh, ever so much more . . .
oh, muchly much-much more unlucky than you!

You ought to be thankful
a hole heaping lot,
for the places and people
you're lucky you're not!

I think I'm a lucky ducky

because

I'm really glad I'm not

Be sure to explain WHY your are glad that you are not a person, or in a place, or with a problem like etc.

Desiree

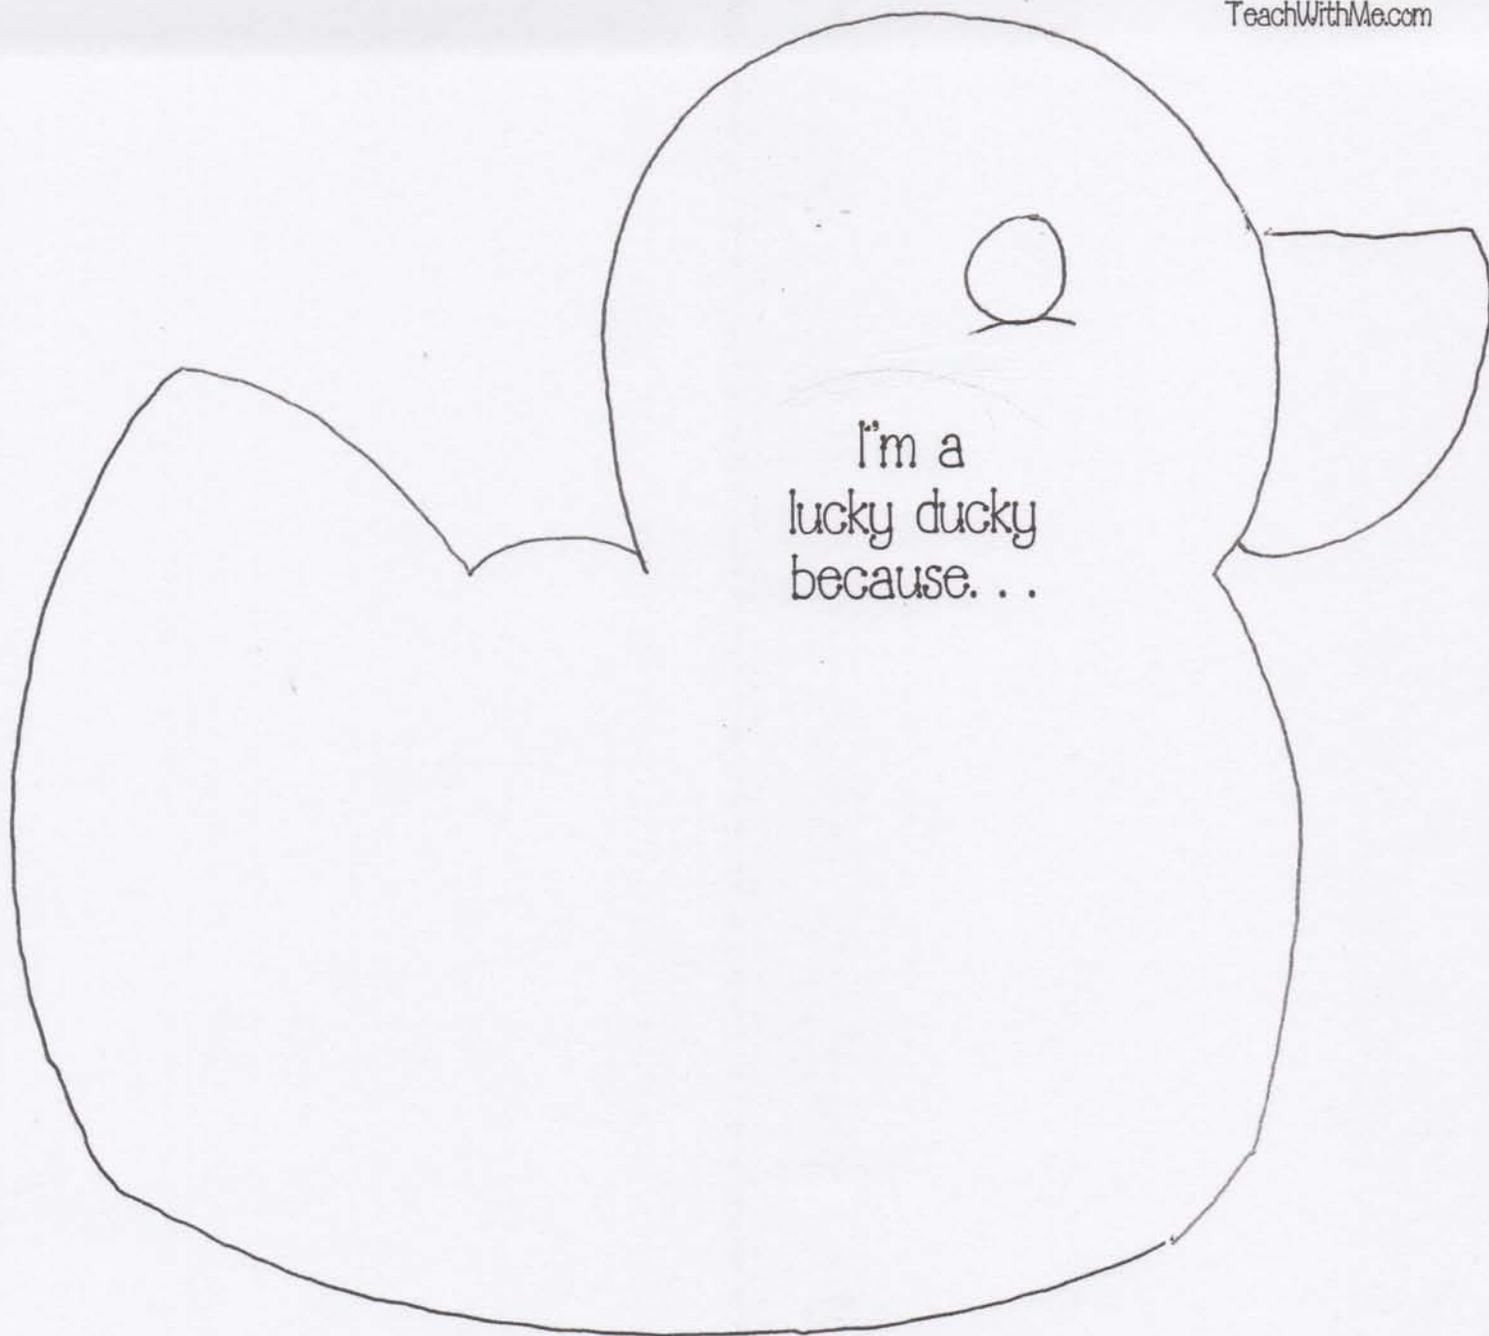

I'm a
lucky ducky
because...

I have a family that loves me.

I live in America
and I am free.

I am smart.

yeserie I'm a lucky
duckie!

Run off the ducks on yellow construction paper.

Students cut them out and then write why they feel they are lucky.

In a discussion before hand, brainstorm why a person is lucky.

What things do they have that others who don't live in America, or who are poor, don't have etc.

For more pizzazz, add a wiggle eye, student photo, and a 3 dimensional beak.

Mount on a blue background bulletin board, so that the ducks look like they are swimming in a pond.

Add clouds to the sky.

Print off the Seuss Writing Prompt Poster.

Glue it to a sheet of pastel construction paper and put it in the middle of the board.

Add some toilet paper roll "cat tails" for a 3D effect + some pastel polka dot or striped boarder for that finishing touch.
